

Sermon Notes

Joseph Dutko—June 9, 2019

“The Promise” (Pentecost Sunday)

Joel 2:28-29; Acts 2:1-4, 14-18, 42-47

Pentecost leads to renewed focus on . . .

I. Community (Acts 2:1, 42-47)

Our Core Value: Mutual Hospitality

We desire that all feel welcomed, loved, and accepted here. The God of hospitality calls us to open our doors and our hearts to one another. By “mutual” we mean that hospitality is a two-way street as we allow ourselves to be transformed by both giving and receiving, making ourselves vulnerable to each other, listening and confessing our sins to each other, forgiving each other, and bearing one another’s burdens. Biblical hospitality causes us to treat each other with humility and compassion, valuing others above ourselves. As in the early church, the message of forgiveness through Jesus and experience of the Spirit overcomes gender, racial, age, and socioeconomic barriers so that we testify to God’s kingdom by bringing and binding people together who might not otherwise seem to have much in common.

II. Charisma (“gifts”) (Joel 2:28-29; Acts 2:17-18)

Our Core Value: Prophetic Worship

We believe that prophetic worship—proclaiming and declaring the heart of God over people and circumstances—changes things in us and in our community. The Holy Spirit uses our worship, which includes music, preaching, fellowship, sharing, and testimony, to form us and ultimately to change what we love and desire. As we proclaim what God has done in the past through the historical Jesus, we also attend to the real-time Jesus who is present through the prophetic Spirit and who helps us to imagine and realize God’s desired future. Our goal is for people to experience what the kingdom of God is like in our corporate worship settings so that their hearts long for more of God’s kingdom in their homes, workplaces, and other spheres of influence.

III. Christ (Acts 2:47)

Our Core Value: Missional Equipping

Every person is called to participate in the mission of God. Young and old, rich and poor, men and women, single and married, working and retired—all play an equal and important role in the kingdom of God and in our church. We pursue a non-hierarchical, egalitarian, and mutual structure which encourages and helps equip every person to be ministers of God in their neighborhoods, families, and workplaces as they discover how the kingdom of God permeates every area of life. We gather weekly in order to be sent out into the world by the Spirit to share the good news and witness to God’s power, love, and reign in the world.
